Introduction

Hello and welcome to the guide for the game College Life.

This section provides decent understanding, how the navigation in this document works.

All hyperlinks should work at your internet browser, just drag and drop the file into empty tab in your browser, if the links doesn't work in your regular pdf reader.

Please read this section. It will help you navigate the walkthrough.

All events' and quests' walkthroughs shows all possible options.

Each alignment represents group of choices you have.

The green path suggests the best possible path for the whole game and maximum skill/ friendship gains. You have to choose only the green options (when available) to have the best outcome.

The red options may lead to abrupt game ending, if you select the right combination of options.

The orange options mean, their outcome depends on the path you've taken. So if you follow the green path, it's like any other green option.

The gains and losses of skill/relationship points are not written anywhere. If you follow the colored path, there is no difference if you do or don't know your stats. Writting them in the walkthrough makes the it that much harder to navigate. If you want to know your stats and relationship level, select 'Player' or 'Character' sub-menu in the main menu.

The non-colored options and combination with the colored ones leads to diffrent outcomes, thus the whole 'grey' array of options is impossible to track correctly. This walkthrough doesn't follow any combination with non-colored options, they are written down only to show you the options you have. If you decide to follow the 'grey' path, this walkthrough will help you only with the requirements for events

If there isn't option in the color of the path you follow, you can select any non-colored option, as it has no real impact other then roleplaying your character.

If there is a group of options in smaller font size under an option, it means, these options will show only if the one above is selected. After that the path returns to it's tracks or is followed by another group of options with small font size.

If there is a huge difference between paths, there is a link leading to the right part of the walkthrough, but only for the green path as stated above.

If there are requirement for an option to show up, they will be written infront the option in brackets.

SPYING ON NURSE (MON-SUN 20:00)

You don't need to play this event right now.

This is the most complicated event in the game so far.

I have to review it and most probably fix some more bugs to make it work as intended.

You can get caught in this event and, depends on your relationship with Jessica, you can get kicked out of college, loose relationship points or get to point, where she ignores you for being there. It also depends on how many times she catches you and at what point (at the entrance or near the shower.)

If you don't get caught, nothing bad will happen.

Part 2 – Moving day

I absolutely recommend to sleep over at Jessica’s the night before the moving day.

Don’t sleep over in your suit, or you’ll be forced to go to the dorm and change.

- on the moving day, get to her apartment before 10am – at 10am or later, you’ll get a call, if you fail to do so
- if you slept over, I recommend to have sex in the shower – she can cum now, because she’s in no hurry
- also, join her for breakfast for some unique dialogue
- in Jessica’s apartment, if it’s less than 6am, wait a few hours, or do the events that are available there

- the main event should start automatically, at this point
 - ‘I think Penny’s help was invaluable.’
 - ‘Right!’
 - ‘It was nothing.’
 - ‘Happy to help.’
 - ‘I know of a way you can thank me.’
 - from now on Penny lives at Jessica’s. When her daily schedule is implemented, you’ll be able to see her there.
 - Jessica stays home for the rest of the day. It’s part of the future “Free Day” chain of events, that you’ll be able to trigger at any time, but for now there’s nothing to see.
